The Lyrics

Ave Maria

Composer Franz Schubert

Ave Maria, gratia plena
Maria, gratia plena
Maria, gratia plena
Ave Ave Dominus
Dominus tecum

Benedicta tu in mulieribus
Et benedictus
Et benedictus fructus ventris
Ventris tui, Jesus
Ave Maria

Ave Maria
Mater Dei
Ora pro nobis peccatoribus
Ora pro nobis
Ora, ora pro nobis peccatoribus
Nunc et in hora mortis
Et in hora mortis nostrae
Et in hora mortis nostrae
Et in hora mortis nostrae
Ave Maria

Between The Worlds

Written by Pam Rose, Terry Burns & Cathy Majeski

Between the worlds of day and night
The veil is thin between the darkness and the light
I can hear your voice sometimes as I'm drifting off to sleep
Calling me

Between the worlds of now and then
I close my eyes and I can see you smile again

I could swear you're in this room, listening to me
Softly whispering

It's alright, it's OK, though it's not the way we planned it
My life without you, I'll never understand it
But I'll see you in my dreams, somewhere in between....

Between the worlds, I believe
I'm not alone, 'cause you're watchin' over me
In the stillness of the morning and the light of every star
There you are

I'll hold you close in memories
But there'll be times when I will cry myself to sleep
The hardest thing I'll ever do is live and let you go
But I need you to know

I'm alright, I'm OK, though it's not the way we planned it
My life without you, I'll never understand it
But I'll see you in my dreams, somewhere in between

Between your heart and mine, there's no space or time
Only Love

Instrumental

I'll see you in my dreams
Somewhere in between the worlds

Forevermore

Written by Pam Rose & Kristin Wilkinson

One dream, one star
Shines where we are

Two souls in faith
Become one heart

On this day, we mark the moment
What will be, what came before
In this prayer we lift our voices
Vowing to begin, Forevermore

In this light, we mark the moment
What will be, what came before
We join our hands and hearts together
Vowing to begin, Forevermore

Forevermore, I will love you

So Many Angels

Written by Pam Rose, Terry Burns & Cathy Majeski

So many angels out there
Living right down the block
In my despair, in my darkest hour
They show up
Sometimes they bring a homemade dinner
Or just sit and talk
And without knowing, they show me
The face of God

Chorus:

So many angels out there
So many angels out there
So many angels out there

I was boarding the plane
When I got the call
And I heard my brother's voice breaking
Saying "He's gone, he's gone, he's gone"
Through my tears I found my seat
Then a stranger next to me
She took my hand and said "Honey,
Hold on, hold on, hold on"

Repeat Chorus

There was a girl who helped my mother
At the old folks' home
She'd make her laugh
She'd brush her hair
And put her makeup on
She didn't know she was my hero
With her gentle ways
She had no fame, she had no money

But she was filled with grace

Repeat Chorus

The Offering

Written by Pam Rose, Gerald O'Brien & Catt Gravitt

Oh, how could you have ever known
When you were called upon to walk this road
The world would taste the tears you cried
And feel the power of your sacrifice
Mary, how did you survive, keep your faith alive?

I lay me down here on my knees
I'm filled with such humility
Oh, the suffering, the loss
Tell me how'd you bear that cross
The price you paid, the gift you gave
Oh, I can feel the trembling of the angels' wings
Just thinking of The Offering

Oh, how could you have ever known
That you'd be called upon to walk this road
The crown your kingdom would prepare
No ancient king of kings could ever wear

I need to know the part of you
The heart that says "They know not what they do"

I lay me down here on my knees
I'm filled with such humility
Oh, the suffering, the loss
Tell me how'd you bear that cross
The price you paid, the gift you gave
Oh, I can feel the trembling of the angels' wings
Just thinking of The Offering

What can I do to give back to you?

I lay me down here on my knees
I'm filled with such humility
Oh, the suffering, the loss
Tell me how'd you bear that cross

The price you paid, the gift you gave
Oh, I still feel the trembling of the angels' wings
Just thinking of The Offering

Holy Child

Written by Pam Rose, Terry Burns & Cathy Majeski

Light of the Universe calling from one bright star
Message from Bethlehem echoing through the dark
Shepherds and wise men bring their gifts across the miles
To the Holy Child

Angels surrounding the manger in silent prayer
Mary embraces the babe in the cold night air
Holding him gently through her tears of joy she smiles
At the Holy Child

Precious baby king, miracle of birth
Will your love change everything around you
As you walk this earth?

Instrumental

Down through the ages we gather to praise his name
Through all the doubt and the darkness the truth remains
Here in each other we can see the light divine
Of the Holy Child

Saviour, have you come to free us from ourselves
Teach us how to live as one,
Oh Prince of Peace, Emmanuel

Now and forever we're blessed by this Holy Night
And the Holy Child

The Everlasting

Written by Pam Rose, Chuck Cannon & Chuck Jones

I want to know what's gonna happen
Where do we go for The Everlasting
I want to feel a deeper passion
I want to know The Everlasting

I want a love that will take me
From this life on into the next one
I want a heart that can handle
A sacred, eternal connection
I want to feel in my soul
That right here in this moment
Forever is ours for the asking
I want to know The Everlasting

I want to lie down in fields of forgiving
I want to die and wake up to find I've just begun living
I want to open my heart to a love that holds on without grasping
I want to know The Everlasting

I want a love that will take me
From this life on into the next one
I want a heart that can handle
A sacred, eternal connection
I want to feel in my soul
That right here in this moment
Forever is ours for the asking
I want to know The Everlasting

Everything

Written by Pam Rose, Terry Burns & Cathy Majeski

You're the Shadow
You're the Angel
You're the Arrow through my heart

You're the Comfort
You're the Sorrow
You're the Candle in the dark

I Can See
I Can See you in
Everything, Everything, Everything
You're Moving Me
And you're Moving through
Everything, Everything, Everything

You're the Silence
In the Secret

You're the Voice when I'm alone

You're the Mountain

You're the Sunrise

You're the Sword inside the Stone

I Can See

I Can See you in

Everything, Everything, Everything

You're Moving Me

And you're Moving in

Everything, Everything, Everything

One Flesh

Written by Pam Rose & Chuck Jones

(Based on, and includes the poem "I Have Come Into This World To See This" by 14th century Persian Poet Hafiz)

We talk about God like he is our creation

We talk about his love, we try to put a limitation

On his compassion and his light

We love to talk about him

When we're ready to fight

And the sword falls, and the arrows fly

Blood spills, my brothers and sisters die

Put another unknown soldier in the tomb

You think we'd know by now

There's only one flesh, one flesh to wound

We talk about the truth like it's something we can color

But the truth makes no amends for killing one another

It never harms or frightens

We love to talk about the truth

Even when we're lying

And the bombs fall, and the bullets fly

Blood spills, my brothers and sisters die

Put another unknown Saviour in the tomb

You think we'd know by now,

There's only one flesh, one flesh to wound

("I Have Come Into This World To See This" by Hafiz)

*I have come into the world to see this:
The sword drop from men's hands
Even at the height of their arc of anger*

*I have come into the world to see this:
All creatures hold hands
As we pass through this miraculous existence*

*I have come into the world to hear this:
Every song the world has sung since it was conceived
In the divine's womb and began spinning from his wish*

*Every song by wind and fin and hoof
Every song by hill and field and tree and woman and child
Every song of stream and rock
Every song of tool and lyre and flute*

*Every song of gold and emerald and fire
Every song the heart should cry with magnificent dignity
To know itself as God*

*I have come into the world to experience this:
Men so true to love they would rather die
Before speaking an unkind word*

*I have come into the world to see this:
The sword drop from men's hands
Even at the height of their arc of anger and rage*

Because we've finally realized
There's only one flesh, one flesh to wound

Still Myself

Written by Pam Rose & Melissa Manchester

I thought I'd live by your side, and die in your arms
We were close as the wind to the rain
Thought I'd take on your dreams and bathe in your light
But this moment is all that remains

And I know I'll make something from nothing
But that first step's the hardest to take

So I will still myself

Conquer my fears
And I will still myself
Cushion the fall
And I will still myself
So deep in the silence 'til I recall
I'm still myself after all

Well I know that I've never walked in these shoes
And your footprints have washed in the sand
But I can't stay forever, waiting by the shore
But my life is like some foreign land

Sometimes we all feel like strangers
Just trying to find our way home

But I will still myself
Conquer my fears
And I will still myself
Cushion the fall
And I will still myself
So deep in the silence 'til I recall
I'm still myself after all

In the whisper of memories
In my heart you are with me
And a part of the journey
Is having the faith to go on

So I will still myself
Conquer my fears
And I will still myself
Cushion the fall
And I will still myself
So deep in the silence 'til I recall
I'm still myself after all
